

IVS International Forum

Oliver Kirchner
Projektleiter IVS International Forum

The IVS International Forum continues to be the round-table of representatives of the international community in Schaffhausen. It was established to intensify the exchange between the international companies of the region and to provide them with a stronger voice within the IVS and throughout the region on key issues impacting them. The forum meetings are organized in close collaboration with the Economic Promotion Canton Schaffhausen, represented by Adrian Stettler, Executive Vice President International Affairs. Events are held in English. Meetings are usually hosted at the premises of one of the participating companies, and followed by an Apéro after the official agenda to enable an informal exchange and networking opportunity amongst participants.

The International Forum met in May to receive a Tax update from an international, Swiss, and cantonal perspective by Andreas Wurster of the Tax Authority Schaffhausen. Adrian Stettler provided an update about developments in the Canton Schaffhausen and initiatives by the Economic Promotion. Participants had the opportunity to share updates about their companies, and topical challenges, which ranged from Covid, Supply Chain issues, Ukraine War, sanctions, work-from-home, return-to-office and hybrid work.

On a personal level I'd like to inform, that I have left Citrix after more than 10 years, and over 7 years as Geschäftsführer. I am happy to continue to drive the IVS International Forum for now as I am planning to stay in Schaffhausen - but welcome any volunteers who want to support or co-host.

Please contact the IVS-Geschäftsstelle or me directly (IVS_International_Forum@kirchners.ch), if you are interested in joining or want further information about the forum.

At the International Forum, executives of international companies exchange information about Schaffhausen as a business location and get in touch with representatives of the authorities.
